

Sunday, July 10 Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Luke 10:25-37

While discussing everlasting life, a lawyer mentions loving one's neighbor as oneself. The lawyer then asks Jesus, "Who is my neighbor?" Jesus tells him about a man beaten by robbers, who was ignored by both a priest and a Levite before a Samaritan stopped and offered him aid. Jesus asks the lawyer who was neighbor to the injured man. The lawyer says "the one who treated him with compassion." Jesus encourages him to go and do the same.

Prayer for Religious Vocations

Priest:

Let us pray for vocations

All:

O God, we earnestly beseech thee to bless the Church with many priests, deacons, seminarians and religious who will love you with their whole strength, be faithful to their vocation and gladly spend their entire lives to teach your truths, serve your Church and make you known and loved.

Priest:

Bless our families, bless our children.

All:

Choose from our homes those who are needed for your work.

Priest:

O Mary, Queen of the clergy,

All:

Pray for us. Pray for our priests, deacons, seminarians and religious. Obtain for us many more.

Amen.

Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise You. We bless You. We adore you. We glorify You. We give You thanks for Your great glory. Lord God, heavenly King, O God almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only-begotten Son. Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father: you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us. You take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer. You are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are Holy One, You alone are the Lord, You alone, are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

Reading 1 - Dt 30:10-14

Moses said to the people: "If only you would heed the voice of the LORD, your God, and keep his commandments and statutes that are written in this book of the law, when you return to the LORD, your God, with all your heart and all your soul. "For this command that I enjoin on you today is not too mysterious and remote for you. It is not up in the sky, that you should say, 'Who will go up in the sky to get it for us and tell us of it, that we may carry it out?' Nor is it across the sea, that you should say, 'Who will cross the sea to get it for us and tell us of it, that we may carry it out?' No, it is something very near to you, already in your mouths and in your hearts; you have only to carry it out."

Responsorial Psalm - Ps 69:14, 17, 30-31, 33-34, 36, 37

Turn to the Lord in your need, and you will live.

Reading 2 - Col1:15-20

Christ Jesus is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. For in him were created all things in heaven and on earth, the visible and the invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers; all things were created through him and for him. He is before all things, and in him all things hold together. He is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in all things he himself might be preeminent. For in him all the fullness was pleased to dwell, and through him to reconcile all things for him, making peace by the blood of his cross through him, whether those on earth or those in heaven.

Gospel - Lk 10:25-37

There was a scholar of the law who stood up to test Jesus and said, "Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?" Jesus said to him, "What is written in the law? How do you read it?" He said in reply, "You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your being, with all your strength, and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself." He replied to him, "You have answered correctly; do this and you will live." But because he wished to justify himself, he said to Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?" Jesus replied, "A man fell victim to robbers as he went down from Jerusalem to Jericho. They stripped and beat him and went off leaving him half-dead. A priest happened to be going down that road, but when he saw him, he passed by on the opposite side. Likewise a Levite came to the place, and when he saw him, he passed by on the opposite side. But a Samaritan traveler who came upon him was moved with compassion at the sight. He approached the victim, poured oil and wine over his wounds and bandaged them. Then he lifted him up on his own animal, took him to an inn, and cared for him. The next day he took out two silver coins and gave them to the innkeeper with the instruction, 'Take care of him. If you spend more than what I have given you, I shall repay you on my way back.' Which of these three, in your opinion, was neighbor to the robbers' victim?" He answered, "The one who treated him with mercy." Jesus said to him, "Go and do likewise."

I believe in one God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven: and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

STEWARDSHIP LOVE

“Jesus said to him, ‘Go and do likewise.’”

-LUKE 10:37

This was Jesus’ command at the end of the Good Samaritan story. Did you know that the Samaritans and Jews despised each other? The moral of the story is to live Stewardship by loving our neighbor. That means loving someone you may not know, or someone that looks different than you, or someone that has different beliefs than you, or someone that you don’t like. All without expecting anything in return.

DID YOU KNOW??

Did you know that we are One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church and that an unbroken chain of succession characterizes the hierarchy of the Catholic Church? Christ commissioned the Twelve Apostles, and each one of them in turn commissioned bishops, who in turn ordained other bishops, priests, and deacons. So, every deacon, priest, and bishop alive today, including the Pope and the Patriarchs of the Eastern Churches, has a lineage that traces directly back to the Apostles. It is why the Church is known as an “Apostolic Church.”

LIVING AS MISSIONARY DISCIPLES

In Sunday's Gospel (Luke 10:25-37), we read the famous story of the Good Samaritan. We oftentimes think the parable of the Good Samaritan is just a teaching about being kind to people but it's much more than that. You see, the whole parable is told from the perspective of the man who is half-dead on the road. We are meant to see ourselves as that person and to see the parable unfold through his eyes. Two people passed by him and both of them had reasons why they should have stopped and helped but didn't. Instead, they focused on their excuses for not helping. The priest and Levite might become ritually “unclean” if they touched a half-dead man, and it was dangerous to wait around in that region longer than necessary. The wounded man's hopes were dashed as each of these two religious figures left him to die. Then, The Samaritan comes by – the one person who had every reason not to stop but the one person who is moved by compassion to help the man. The injured man did not care that a Samaritan helped him. He was grateful for anyone who would come to his aid. Whoever helped the injured man was a “neighbor” to him. If the injured man would allow the Samaritan to be a neighbor to him then the injured man had to consider the Samaritan, his neighbor and love him in return. This perspective turns our reasoning upside down because it asks us to see ourselves in a position of dire vulnerability and need. In such a position, we have to ask ourselves the question, “Who would you allow to help you if you were half-dead on the roadside?” Then that person is our neighbor, and we have an obligation to help them just as we would accept help from them. The very question of the Lawyer has been reversed. Rather than asking, “Who is my neighbor?”, the Lawyer should have been asking, “How can I be a neighbor to those in need?” Rather than patting ourselves on the back every time we do a good deed for someone we love and saying, “I helped someone,” we need to also ask, “Who did I not help?”

Think about it: Who have I been a neighbor to this past week? Who have I failed as a neighbor?
